

217-235 AD

St. Hippolytus, the first Antipope; he was reconciled to the Church while imprison during persecution in 235 AD.

Callistus was elected Pope the son of a prominent Roman.
Callistus was freed from his bonds in 199. He was made deacon by POPE ZEPHYRINUS.

Callistus was denounced by his enemy HIPPOLYTUS who set himself up as Antipope. He condemned Callistus for being two burnt with heretics and sinners.

Callistus was killed in an uprising in 222, so, is considered a martyr.

8 APR 217

Murder of Caracalla

Accession of MACRINUS

Autumn 217

The Parthians had mustered a powerful army and were advancing in strength on the Roman position. The two forces met near NISIBIS in northern Mesopotamia but in a hard-fought battle neither side gained the upper hand. To win peace Macrinus agreed to pay the Parthians the enormous sum of 200 million resterces. This ruined Mocuris's standing with the troops & it went down further when he removed some of the privileges granted them by Cordoba